Versatile graphic designer and illustrator with over 20 years of experience creating refined visual solutions across print and digital media. I thrive on transforming complex ideas into purposeful, beautifully executed designs through close collaboration with clients. Expert in Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, and InDesign, I specialize in creating polished marketing materials—including invitations, signage, advertising, promotional pieces, and web and digital content—that reflect elevated brand standards. Based in the United States, I have extensive experience working with local and nationwide clients, both in person and remotely.
